WEEKEND METEOROLOGIST/MMJ-REPORTER

WPSD LOCAL6, the NBC affiliate in the 82nd market seeks a talented Weekend Meteorologist/MMJ-reporter. Our staff works hard and colleagues frequently land in much bigger markets after honing their skills with our awarding winning staff. We've recently lost three teammates to Nashville, Atlanta, and Knoxville.

You know WSI, every social media platform, are familiar with wall-to-wall "tag-team" weather coverage, congenial and collaborative. You are a graphic whiz and a great weather story teller. You cringe when you hear terms like "frontal boundary" and "convection." You are warm, reassuring, conversational and credible. Everyone likes you and believes you.

We are The Weather Authority in our market. Tracking storms is quite simply the most important work we do. It is work that literally saves lives. We expect an absolute commitment from our team to do whatever it takes to serve our viewers in four states, on every platform better than anyone else without regard to our own comfort or convenience.

While you will fill in on other broadcasts quite a bit, you also will work as an MMJ-Reporter. We have the tools you need to be successful, including eight photographers, live backpacks and two live trucks.

You are an idea person, self-starter and ready to work in a high energy, competitive environment, producing content for multiple platforms. You'll work in a powerful, well-equipped award-winning news operation.

Degree in Meteorology or related science field and two years of experience preferred. Send cover letter, resume and video link to Perry Boxx, News Director at pboxx@wpsdlocal6.com. No snail mail or DVDs.
